

Dra. Cristina Blasi Casagrán

On the one hand, the project will design the EUMigraTool (EMT) for organisations that work at first line of the border, organisms of reception of second level and also townships. Also it will provide solutions based at the prediction of the migratory fluxes and the identification of risks of tensions among the migrants and the citizens of the EU. On the other hand, an in depth analysis on the factors that promote the migration, as well as the public sentiment to the migration, will conduct towards offer suitable recommendations and good practices for the political managers, the governments and the institutions of the EU.

In addition to the UAB, take part at the project other 13 institutions of continuum Europa:

- European University Institute (Italy),
- Ethniko Kentro Erevnas Kai Technologikis Anaptyxis (Greece),
- Centre for European Policy Studies (Belgium),
- Institute für Weltwirtschaft (Germany), Istituto Affari Internazionali (Italy),
- FIZ Karlsruhe - Institute für Informationsinfrastruktur GMBH (Germany),
- Cork Institute of Technology (Ireland),
- Associazione della Croce Blonde Italian (Italy), Oxfam Italy Onlus (Italy),
- Center for the Study of Democracy (Bulgaria) ,
- Open Cultural Center (Bulgaria), Terracom Informatics LTD (Greece),
- Brunel University London (United Kingdom).